Settle down at Point Cook Village

In a world that is sometimes confusing and stressful, having a safe, stable and serene environment to call home is priceless.

Point Cook Village is an oasis-like community, with beautiful villas and apartments available for purchase.

With its clubhouse the central meeting place and the canal the beating heart of the village, this place is a stunning escape from the hustle and bustle of suburban life in the middle of Point Cook.

"The first impression residents and visitors get when they enter Point Cook Village is that of the gardens," village manager Michael Lynch says.

"It's a very landscaped and nicely spaced out village – the canal attracts lots of native birdlife and you'll often see residents walking along the canal. It creates a feeling of open space and freedom."

A strong volunteer community is one of the village's proudest points, with residents banding together to put together events, outings and organisations.

"We have so many clubs here at the village – we've got bowls, social club, arts and craft, coffee club, movie club – there are just so many activities that residents can enjoy," Michael says.

"All of these activities are arranged and organised by volunteers. We also have services in the clubhouse during the week including a doctor, podiatrist, hairdresser and physiotherapist."

The safety of Point Cook Village means residents can sleep soundly at night, with CCTV technology around the clubhouse and village, secure main gates and pleasantly observant neighbours.

"We also have a personal emergency notification system for residents," Michael says.

"If they need help in a hurry, the press of a button will alert someone from our 24/7 contracted health service that we have a resident requiring assistance."

Make time in your schedule to visit Point Cook Village's open day on Wednesday, May 25, from 10am to 2pm.

"Our residents are really enthusiastic about meeting people!" Michael says.
