Providing tax return services for clients in a variety of industries such as construction, health, security and garment industries, along with self-managed super funds, business activity statements, 'mum and dad' businesses, small-medium enterprises, and businesses with multi-million dollar turnover, Proctor Accounting is your guardian angel this tax time.

Accountant Phil Proctor has been in the tax and accounting industry for 22 years, and has run his own practice for the last 12 years.

"I am driven by the rapport I build with my clients, and achieving the best possible outcome for them," Phil says. "My greatest achievement is having the business evolve from a one man band to having multiple employees, as well as the capacity to form a strong collaboration with complementary businesses to assist our clients within our own office."

Services are tailored to each individual client's needs and clients are not handballed from professional to professional. If you see Phil for your tax return one year, you will see him the next.

Consistent client feedback highlights the fact that Phil is not just a typical accountant. Rather, he explains everything in terms that is easily understood.

With tax season approaching and legislation changing each year, Proctor Accounting is preparing with staff training sessions before clients book in, ensuring that each member of the team is comfortable and compliant with all current tax laws.

As a part of the Geelong Wealth Centre, Proctor Accounting can put clients in touch with like-minded complementary businesses, including bookkeepers and financial advisors.

Proctor Accounting is located at 4a Reeves Court, Breakwater. For more information or to book an appointment, visit www.proctoraccounting.com.au.
