Support services boost

By Elle Cecil

Recovery Options is a disability and support services organisation that provides disability support workers, support coordinators, cleaners and gardeners to eligible people in need, as well as providing a range of other support services.

A boutique registered NDIS provider, Recovery Options has been in business for three years. Managing Director Russell Bosnjakovic says that the business is driven by a desire to provide meaningful and effective support to service users.

"We aim to provide a committed, personalised, recovery-oriented service with great care and detail," explains Russell.

"We're driven to help create optimum transformative lifelong recovery by assisting, inspiring and motivating the participant to become the ebay version of themselves by collaborating with family, community, employer groups and professionals."

"[We work with] professionals who share the same focused determination, utilising evidence-based approaches, holistic healing modalities and innovative alternative therapies, until successful outcomes are achieved as measured by the full satisfaction of the participant and their family," Russell says.

Recovery Options' greatest achievement so far bridging the gap between large-style corporate organisations and those wanting a more personalised service.

The next goal for this local business is to make homes available to participants on Specialist Disability Accommodation (SDA)

Packages in the Yarra Ranges and Yarra Valley area.

Recovery Options works solely to achieve one hundred percent customer satisfaction, servicing a myriad of disabilities such as physical, neurological and psycho-social, as well as those affected by vision impairment and autism, those requiring high-complex care and behavioural support, and 24/7 end of life care.
